THE DAY IS FINALLY HERE! The house is full of anticipation – a teenager chomping at the bit to get the freedom driving will bring, and parents giddy at the prospect of having one less kid to shuttle around. So, what's the next step?

Well, it's simple, really. Sign up for an ODOT-approved driver ed course anywhere in Oregon. "Why?" you ask. Here are just a few great reasons:

- Teens who take an ODOT-approved driver ed course are three times less likely to end up in a crash.
- Oregon teen driver laws are among the toughest in the country – professional instruction takes all the guesswork out of the process.
- It's a real time-saver: Take an approved driver ed course with 50 hours of supervised driving vs. spending 100 hours behind the wheel with Mom or Dad.
- Get back the money you spend and then some: Teens who complete driver ed are less likely to get traffic tickets. They also pay lower insurance rates. Additional subsidies are available for those students who meet the Free and Reduced qualifications.
- And did we mention that teens who take approved driver education get their drive test waived at DMV?
